

Guided by its search for excellence, and in biodynamics since 1998, Domaine Leflaive is unable to satisfy all the demands received for wines. We suggest that our private customers acquire their favourite vintages via our network of distributors, the list of which can be consulted on this site.

We do not sell wines directly from the Domaine. Visits are reserved for our professional customers ; this is why we take the greatest care to the diversity and quality of the information given on this site.